History

France became a member of the International Ice Hockey Federation on October 20, 1908

France made their first and only appearance at the top level at the 2002 World Junior Championships, when the French team defeated the likes of Germany, Ukraine, Austria, Norway, Latvia, and Poland, all of whom would eventually or saw top division competition.

France defeated Ukraine 2-1 to secure a spot among the 10 national junior teams competing at the 25th IIHF sanctioned World Junior Hockey Championships held in Pardubice, Czech Republic in 2001-02. France opened their first game against Canada and lost 15-0, which still stands as their largest margin of defeat. The French would never recover with losses to Russia (5-1), Finland (8-0), Switzerland (8-0).

France would automatically be sent down to the relegation round with back-to-back games against Belarus. France won the first game 3-2, but would end up losing 4-2 the following game sending France packing back to Division I.
